GOVERNOR MAY CALL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE FOR NEXT MONTH

Business Will Include Action On Amendments To San Mateo County Charter

Word received from Sacramento, late last week, indicated that a statement by Governor Frank F. Merriam reveals that he will issue a call for a special session of the legislature the second week in February.

While only that legislation may be considered which is specified in the call for the special session, the governor has indicated that the ratification of the 1937 San Mateo County charter amendments will be included.

These amendments become effective immediately upon ratification, it is pointed out, and require election of county executive, engineer, coroner and public administrator, treasurer, tax collector and recorder, offices filled by appointment under the present charter terms.

District Attorney Gilbert D. Ferrell has stated that he will advise against a special election, because the candidates must run again in the August primary election.

Principal matters in the special legislative session call will be discussion of an enabling act to give California the right to participate in federal low cost housing and slum clearance loans; and legislation to meet a new oil drilling situation in Wilmington by which the state may receive royalties not now collectible on wells in that area.

REASON FOR SENDING NOTICE

California employers henceforth will receive from the State Department of Employment notices of claims their former employees make for unemployment compensation benefits.

This announcement was made this week by the chairman of the Unemployment Reserves Commission, who said many employers are wondering why they are receiving Form DE 443 through the mails.

This form, a duplicate of the benefit claim, is sent employers in compliance with provisions of the California Unemployment Reserves Act, which requires that the employer receive a notice whenever a person who has previously been employed by him applies for benefits.

Employers, he said, may use the form in several ways. They may keep records of claims made by former employees, which will be charged against their reserve accounts with the commission and which later will affect merit rating provisions contained in the act.

Also, the mailing of the form is a protection against false claims for benefits.

Further, he pointed out, length of the claimant's waiting period may be determined on the basis of the notice to the employer. If a man has been discharged for cause, or leaves employment voluntarily, the employer may notify the office of the Department of Employment mentioned on the form and the waiting period may be extended from four to eight weeks.

Alleged Boy Bandit Returned For Trial

Cured of insanity, Joseph McGuigan, former Daly City youth, was returned from the Ukiah state hospital for the criminally insane to Redwood City and is facing trial on a charge of complicity in a Daly City grocery store robbery a year ago. McGuigan and two companions, Joseph Hines and Jack Watson were arrested shortly after the holdup. Hines and Watson were convicted and sentenced to Preston. McGuigan pleaded insanity.

NO BUTTONS, NO WIFE

In seeking divorce at Cleveland, recently, Cecil W. Angelberger complained to the court that his wife, Gladys, "wouldn't sew buttons on my clothes when they came off." The complaint appeared sufficiently convincing.

NEW "CLEOPATRA" FOR EGYPT

Slender, dark-eyed Farida Zulficar, 16 year old commoner, Egypt's second queen since the immortal Cleopatra, was to wed the young King Farouk, January 20, at an elaborate ceremony in Cairo. No woman, not even Farida herself, will witness the Moslem wedding rites, however. A camel caravan brought caskets filled with henna for the future queen, used since the days of pharaohs to stain the hands and feet of the bride. Among the costly gifts at Koubbeh palace—one of seven palaces available to the king—were two shotguns presented by King George of England, and a new automobile from Germany.

PRESS MEMBERS WANT PRINTING DONE AT HOME

San Mateo County Association Sends Committee To Confer With Officials

At the last meeting of the San Mateo County Press Association the conclusion was reached that too much of the county's business was reaching outside channels.

Pursuant to the discussion a committee was appointed consisting of Logan Franklin of the South San Francisco Enterprise; W. E. Pitschke, publisher of the Daly City Record, and Harry Butler, general manager of the San Mateo Times.

On Monday morning of this week the members of this committee discussed county purchasing problems with County Executive E. A. Rolison and A. C. Fensel, efficiency expert attached to the executive's office.

On behalf of the association, the three newspaper executives submitted a plan whereby the county would purchase all of its printing from or through San Mateo County plants.

The result of the conference was a pledge of co-operation of county officials to the end that more of the county's printing business and purchase of printing supplies may be kept within the county by allotment to home institutions.

The county official's also accepted an invitation to attend the regular dinner and business meeting of the association, Monday, February 7, at the Hotel Benjamin Franklin in San Mateo, at which time county printing policies will be further discussed.

County Old Age Payroll To Increase

San Mateo County's old age payments for February 1 will increase $500 over January, according to preliminary estimates made by Dr. Charles C. Gans, county welfare director, recently.

The February payroll will total $25,042, as compared with $24,497 for the past month. In addition, the county will pay $4400 for orphan aid and $850 to dependent blind.

Direct aid expenditures will total $925, according to the estimate.

Entire Family Dead In Train-Auto Crash

When their automobile struck a Western Pacific freight train, Monday of this week, at Hayward, Frank Prude, 42, his wife, Emily, 35, and their daughter Frances, 19, were killed. The mother and daughter died instantly and Prude lived only a short time after being taken to a hospital.

RECREATION ACTIVITIES ARE MOVING ALONG

Project Directors Plan To Give Instruction In Kite Making Prior To Coming Tournaments

Large kites, small kites, bright kites, dull kites, square kites, bird kites; in fact, any and all kinds of kites; will be displayed in all their glory at the first annual kite day, to be held sometime in February. Instruction in kite making will be carried on by the recreation leaders of the Daly City Recreation Project during the next three weeks. Boys and girls of all ages from 2 to 92 will compete in Neighborhood Kite Tournaments, the winners of which will compete in a City-Wide Kite Tournament, the date of which will be announced later.

More particulars of this opening event will be given later by the recreation director's office.

The first meeting of the Daly City Recreation Commission is to take place on Monday afternoon, January 24, at the recreation office, at which time the community leaders appointed to the commission by Mayor Paul E. Selmi will consider a program of recreational activities for the entire community.

Beside Mayor Selmi, Principal James Ferguson of Jefferson Union High School, Superintendent Richard Crane Jr., Mrs. M. Boyle and Mrs. A. M. Eason constitute this commission representing the City of Daly City in this important contribution to our community.

GIRL SCOUTS TO TAKE UP SEWING

Maren Nelson and Gloria Wade of Girl Scout Troop 2 received their Second Class badges at the Court of Awards held in the Nazarene Church, Saturday evening of last week. Jean Lloyd was admitted into the troop and received her Girl Scout pin the same evening.

Next Saturday evening the girls are going to hold a "sewing bee." Under the direction of Mrs. Heath, the Scouts will be taught how to make many useful articles of handiwork, which will give the girls something to work on during their spare time at home or during their weekly patrol meetings.

The Scouts of Troop 2 are hoping that the time is not far off when their troop will have its Brownie Pack. Many girls, between the ages of seven and ten, have been patiently waiting for the Brownie Pack to be formed. Although the Nazarene Church gave its consent to the formation of such an organization for the younger girls, the delay has been caused by the lack of proper leadership. It is hoped by many that that difficulty will be overcome in the near future.

The program will be heard over Station KPO, San Francisco, between 9:45 p. m. and 10 p. m.

Concluding the State Board's series Friday, January 28, Roy W. Cloud, executive secretary of the California Teachers Association, will speak on "How California Schools Are Financed."

Pneumonia Fatal To Mrs. Baruch

Mrs. Annie Baruch, aged 65, wife of Bernard M. Baruch, financier and close advisor to leaders of the Democratic party, died of pneumonia at New York City, Monday of this week. Survivors, besides the husband, are two daughters and a son, Mrs. Belle W. Wilcox and Mrs. Renee Wilcox Samstag and Bernard M. Baruch Jr.

APPETITE APPEASED

After flying into the home of Frank M. Capless of Rutland, Vt., recently, a dove sated its craving for food by eating four plates of chocolate pudding, a pound bar of butter and the contents of a sugar bowl before being separated from its repast.

ROMANCE FOR CANTOR GIRL

An "Abie's Irish Rose" romance became known in Hollywood recently with the announcement by Eddie Cantor, screen and radio comedian, that one of his five daughters, Edna, would marry Jimmy McHugh Jr., son of Jimmy McHugh, famous Irish song writer. Young McHugh and Miss Cantor will be wed in May and honeymoon in Hawaii, they announced. "Maybe they will have a son," beamed Cantor, father of five daughters.

EXPERIMENT WITH LIGHTS ON BAYSHORE

The State Division of Highways is conducting a highway lighting experiment in San Mateo County as an accident prevention measure. Sodium vapor lights are being installed, set on staggered spacing, 140 feet apart, on the three and a half mile section of the Bayshore Highway between the San Francisco County line and South San Francisco.

This location was selected because of the unusually large number of accidents of the type that might have been prevented by highway lighting that have occurred there in the past eight years.

It is true that night driving is more hazardous, but it is a question if these hazards will be entirely removed by better illumination. The experiment will teach us much and the results will be interesting to all.—San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

APPRECIATION IS PRICE OF TICKET

The Daly City Band will give its second free concert Tuesday evening, February 8, in the Jefferson Union High School auditorium.

The change of date was made in order to allow the committee additional time to send out notices to our citizens. Inasmuch as a large attendance is anticipated, it was deemed necessary to select this commodious assembly room for the affair rather than the Daly City Auditorium, as previously announced.

Our boys of the band, in united effort under the masterful leadership of George Brenner, have made excellent progress. Citizens of this community should show their appreciation by keeping this date, February 8, open on their recreational calendar. Let's fill every seat in the spacious hall, plus all the standing room, for we all know that encouragement is oil to endeavor.

These free concerts, given by the Daly City Band, are milestones of musical achievement. If we want them continued yearly, how can we convey our thoughts to these scientists of melody? By being appreciative listeners in our respective places at the High School Auditorium on the evening of February 8.

State Employment Service Office Open

Arrangements are being made today by Wade Sargent, manager of the California State Employment Service for San Mateo County, to serve South San Francisco, providing employment service facilities of the California State Employment Service to residents of that city. By establishment of this office citizens of Daly City and the northern end of the county will find it unnecessary to travel to San Mateo, but may transact their business at the South San Francisco office when more convenient.

On Wednesday and Thursday of each week, beginning January 26, those applying for employment or those applying for benefit claims under the Unemployment Reserves Act should report at 215 Linden street, South San Francisco, between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 4:00 p. m.

The California State Employment Service maintains 62 offices throughout the state and is affiliated with the United States Employment Service to give nationwide coverage.

Both employers and employees are urged to call on this office and become acquainted with the principles and practices of the California State Employment Service in operation.

IN SAME BUSINESS

A fan at a football game at Dell, Southampton, England, while watching a recent game, took a dislike to a loud silk handkerchief one of his friends was sporting and very quietly extracted it from the pocket of his friend.

A moment later his own wallet was handed him by a stranger, who remarked, "Sorry mate; didn't know you were in the same game."

BIRTHDAY BALL TO VIEW STARS OF NIGHT CLUBS

Stanford University Students Also Appear On Program In Several Orchestral Numbers

Sparkling entertainment for the annual President's Birthday Ball at Tanforan club house Saturday, January 29, was assured today with announcement by General Chairman Joseph V. Gaffey that stars of widely known night clubs will participate in a gala floor show.

Donating their services for the celebration to raise funds for the relief of infantile paralysis sufferers, the artists include featured singers and dancers from Uncle Tom's Cabin, San Bruno, and the Club Moderne and Royal Hawaiian in San Francisco.

In addition, talented Stanford university students, who have appeared with orchestras at leading hotels and resorts, also will present several numbers.

Caesar Martinelli, manager of Uncle Tom's Cabin, has arranged for the appearance of his popular blues singer, Birdie June Preston, formerly of the Folies Bergere.

Through the courtesy of Manager William Asby, there will be three acts from the Royal Hawaiian. These are the Clifford Sisters, in their spectacular "electric duel"; Lillie Lilliane, in songs of the Irish and native dances, and Mel Petersen, one of San Francisco's outstanding popular singers.

From Joe Merello's Club Moderne will come the featured artist, Senorita Anita Aguero, Mexico City prima donna, widely known as the "Spanish Nightingale."

Joe Cuneo, arranging the entertainment with Gaffey, was promised by Irene W. Coverley, manager of the student bureau, that several acts will be contributed from Stanford university. The floor show will be presented on a stage, specially built for the celebration by John W. Marchbank, directing owner of Tanforan.

As committees reported a big demand for tickets, which have been priced at 75 cents each, the Board of Supervisors this week endorsed the ball and called upon all citizens of the county to support the worthy cause.

POLICE OF SAN BRUNO ARREST ALLEGED THIEF

Young Woman Apprehended And Charged With Purloining Jewels From Bedrooms —Is Held To Answer

San Bruno police, Tuesday of this week, apprehended an attractive San Francisco young woman on charges of stealing jewelry from rooms in the Bellevue Inn on El Camino Real.

The prisoner gave her name as Mrs. Elinor Crawford and said she resided alone at 2234 Pacific avenue, San Francisco. She is said to have at times used the name of Elinor Koepke. Her age was given as 23 years.

Alleged to have admitted two thefts, one on December 20 and the other Monday of this week, she was arraigned before Police Judge R. A. Rapsey on a charge of burglary Tuesday morning and bail set at $1000 cash or $2000 bond.

The memory of the proprietors of the inn, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Batmale, who suspected her after the previous theft, resulted in her capture with two stolen rings in her possession, according to Police Chief William Maher.

Mrs. Crawford and a man companion came to the resort Monday afternoon and occupied a private dining room.

Recognizing her from the previous visit, Mr. and Mrs. Batmale said they kept watch and saw her leave the room, go to their bedroom in another part of the building, where

Coast Raid Nets Counterfeit Money

Sam Bongiorno

One hundred thousand dollars in counterfeit money was recently seized by secret service agents and San Jose, Cal., police, climaxing months of investigation into the sources of bogus $5 bills which have flooded nearly every major city in the country during the last two years. Tracing sales of the spurious notes to a small cottage, government agents discovered a huge cache behind a wooden wall in the basement. A closet containing 100 fruit jars, each holding $1000 in bogus money, was discovered in the fake wall. According to police, Sam Bongiorno recently sold $1000 of the bills for $300; this, they said, was the "key to the situation." Three other men were held with Bongiorno on suspicion of counterfeiting and distribution of spurious money.

LOOKS DECEIVE BY COMPARISON WITH REAL THING

Moral Is That Sanity, Like Gold, Is Where You Find It In Life

There's plenty of food for thought in the Federal Theater play at the Alcazar Theater this week. It is called "Nude With Pineapple" and it revolves around the idea that sanity, like gold, is where you find it, that all that glitters with what passes for common sense is not necessarily the real thing always.

All of act two and one scene of act three show the interior of a sanitarium for the allegedly mentally "ripsy-dipsy." The inmates in this unusual asylum are not so crazy. Here they found peace of mind, something they could not find in the outside world. The bars on the windows, as they view it, are not there to keep them in, but—to keep the outside world out. That's not such a crazy idea.

The story has to do with a young man who has always cherished the idea of becoming a great painter. This ambition was stifled at home by a stiffly upright father in law and a nagging wife. So, when he reaches the point where he can't stand it any longer, the wife and father railroad him to the asylum rather than have a divorce in the family. Angry at first, the husband eventually realizes that here at last he will have opportunity to paint.

There are many hilarious situations. It is good comedy throughout. Next week will be the closing week. "The Sun And I," a drama of ancient Egypt through modern eyes, will open at the Alcazar on February 2.

SENATORS AND CONGRESSMAN ASKED TO HELP

Groups Of Labor Organizations And Other Bodies Adopt Favorable Resolutions

Support of President Roosevelt's message to Congress, January 3, and letters to Congressman John J. McGrath, Senator William G. McAdoo and Senator Hiram Johnson that they are expected to support the program contained in the President's message in the present session of Congress, have been authorized in resolutions passed by a number of labor and political groups in the Eighth Congressional District last week, according to California Committee for Political Unity.

A meeting of 300 representatives of organized labor attending the Central Labor Council of Santa Clara County recently, and including Building Trades, Teamsters, Cannery and Dried Fruit Workers Unions, resolved:

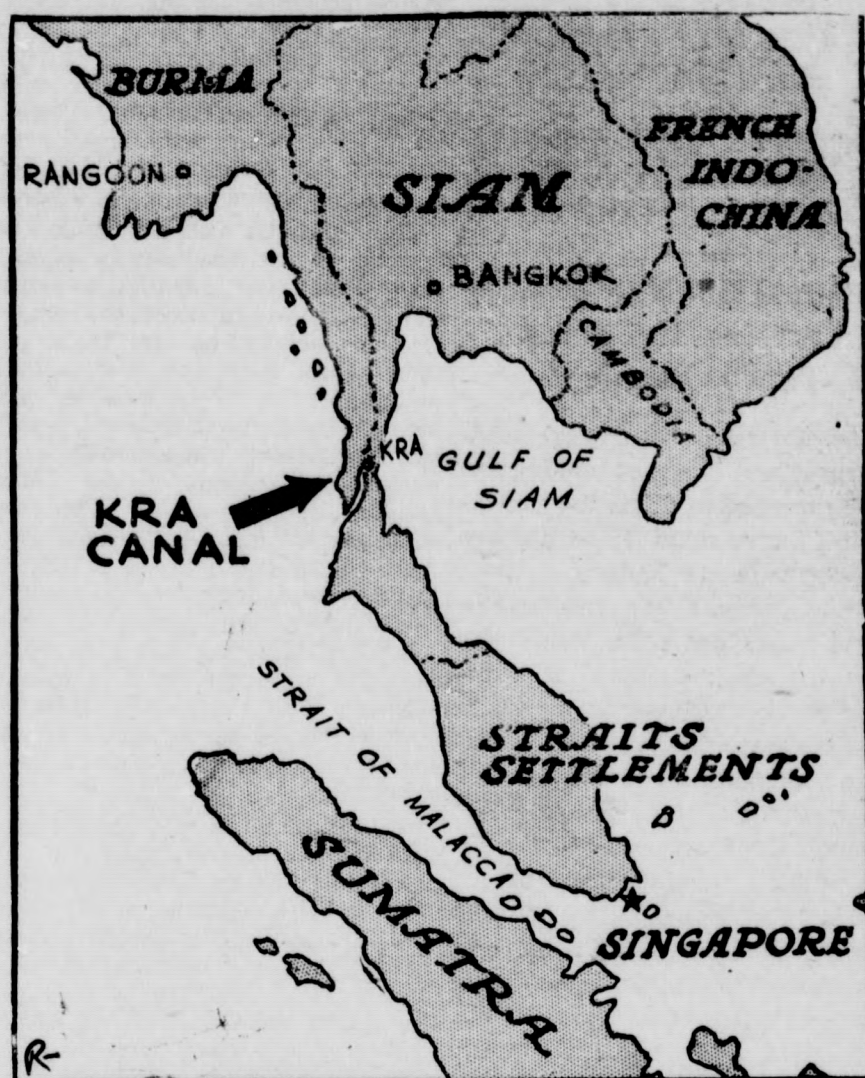

"That this meeting endorse the proposals contained in the President's message to Congress and communicate with Congressman John J. McGrath, Senator William G. McAdoo and Senator Hiram Johnson that we expect them to do all in their power to make possible the complete realization of this program in the present Congress."

A similar resolution was passed by the American Federation of Teachers Local 442, Palo Alto, whose president is Prof. Guido Marx, emeritus, of Stanford University.

Two Political Unity Clubs, one in Daly City and one in San Jose, have also gone on record for complete support of President Roosevelt's program. Copies of the resolution urging similar action by all affiliated groups have been sent to the 39 member organizations in the Eighth District, representing a membership of close to 20,000. The resolution states that:

"President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, in his inspiring message to Congress expressed the convictions of all progressive labor, farmer, professional, civic and business groups as to the responsibility for contin-

Proposed Japanese Canal Across Siam

Above map shows how a canal reported being built under Japanese supervision across the narrowest part of Siam at Kra, which will cut 1200 miles off shipping routes from the China Sea to the Bay of Bengal. With the completion of the canal Japan will be able to move its fleet without interference from the south China Sea to the Bay of Bengal, several hundred miles north of the British fortifications at Singapore.

"The proposals put forward by the President as an immediate program for the present session of Congress will materially help solve maladjustments in the United States, bring fairer earnings and security to the majority of the people and strengthen the position of democratic governments the world over."

WASHINGTON NEWS

FROM OUR CONGRESSMAN
JOHN J. McGRATH

Objectives Of The New Session—
The President states his objectives for the new session. A wage and hour bill; authorization for government reorganization; crop control legislation; relief funds; curtailment of expenditures in a way that necessary government functions will not be endangered; national income must be raised to produce larger tax revenues and changes in present taxes without causing losses.

Economies—The President is determined to cut government expenses at this time. He has recommended several curtailments to Congress among which are: Curtailment of several general public works programs such as river and harbor improvements and buildings because they do not provide as much employment as other types of work. Reclamation projects are to be stopped until those now under construction are nearly completed. Public building should be continued only on a small basis so that capital investment will be returned by savings in annual operating costs. Reduction of highway construction grants. Some of the expenditures will remain the same and a few will be boosted but in general, the program is economy.

Monopoly—The important point in the coming year in Congress seems to be monopoly. Some control to curb monopolies will be sought and enforced. The anti-trust laws are not much help in controlling business and for this reason they stand to be revised. Identical bidding plays a large part in the reasons for revising these laws, as the government does nearly all of its purchasing on the basis of bids where competition is important. The government has always disapproved of identical bidding and will try to stop such action. Just in what way monopolies will be curbed is as yet hard to say.

New Judiciary Bill—Referred to a Senate Judiciary subcommittee, is a bill creating a dozen new Federal judgeships. These judgeships would be in the following states: Georgia, California, Kansas, Texas, Ohio, Louisiana, Michigan, Washington and the District of Columbia.

Merchant Marine—Commitments of seven shipping companies to build from 20 to 43 ships for the foreign trade between now and 1942 in the government's program to rehabilitate the American merchant marine are contained in the new long term subsidy agreements between the United States Marine Commission and these companies. Under the agreements, the seven shipping companies will receive annual operating subsidies totalling $7,359,000, 57 per cent of which amount is represented by wages and subsistence of officers and crews.

Helium—Uncle Sam is about to begin operations as salesman for helium that rare non-inflammable gas virtually all of which is produced by the Bureau of Mines, Department of the Interior. Export of helium for non military purposes was provided for by Act of Congress last summer following the Hindenburg explosion. Permission of an interdepartmental board with sale by the Bureau of Mines is provided for in this act.

The sale of helium to trans-Atlantic interests and for medical use will begin shortly. The German Zeppelin Transport Company will require 14,000,000 cubic feet of helium to be exported to Germany for the initial inflation and make up for the LZ-130, the airship now nearing completion in Germany, and an additional 3,900,000 cubic feet will be required for make up in this country in connection with the 15 or more trans-Atlantic flights planned for the spring, summer and fall of this year.

General Health Conditions—The general death rate of the United States for the year ending June 30, 1937, was 11.3 per 1000 population, as compared with 10.8 for the preceding year, according to the United States Public Health Service. Compiled from studied data of 25 selected states, the report further showed an increase in infant mortality from 55.7 per 1000 live births in 1935 to 56.9 per live births in the current period. Surgeon General Parran pointed out, however, a further decline in maternal mortality. New low death rates were recorded for typhoid fever, measles, whooping cough, diphtheria and infantile paralysis, although leading causes of death, namely, heart disease, cancer, pneumonia and cerebral hemorrhage, continued their upward trend. The incidence of small pox, as indicated by reports from 46 states, remained practically stationary at 7,820 cases, with only 33 deaths.

Spread In Bread Prices—The spread between the retail price of white bread and typical bread ingredients costs reached a 7 year high at the end of 1937. Not since December, 1930, has this bakers' and retailers' margin been as large as it was in November and December, 1937. The average retail price of a pound loaf of white bread for the country in December was 8.7 cents and the average cost of ingredients in a typical pound loaf was 2.6 cents. This left an average gross margin of 6.1 cents for bakers and retailers.

Social Security—Nation wide operation of the Social Security Act has been achieved in 1937 for the first time. It is no longer necessary to discuss the act in terms of its promises. Today the Social Security Board is able to report on Nation wide achievements in public assistance to the needy, old age insurance and unemployment compensation. In summarizing the years progress, more than 36,000,000 wage earners now have social security accounts under

BIG BUSINESS USES SIT-DOWN STRIKE WEAPON

Old Method But New Manner Of Applying The Screws To The People

Sit-down strikes by capital, with the purpose and intent of making the federal government do as the gentlemen of finance want it to do, are nothing new in our history.

Andrew Jackson ran into one a hundred years ago that makes the present corporation effort at high-jacking as impressive in comparison as a kitten's arching its back to emphasize a demand for richer cream.

The methods of the old time effort to coerce the government were a little cruder than the processes of today, but the changes are of degree rather than of character. The present day soviet of capitalists is not quite so frank as when "Old Nick" Biddle announced that he would squeeze the Jackson administration to its knees before he would submit to the withdrawal of government deposits from his bank, but it is somewhat harder for the "Sixty families" who control the holding companies and other trusts to express themselves than it was for the dictator of finance of the 1830's.

Times have changed, of course, since the good old days when the big bank could arrange "loans and accommodations" for senators and representatives, according to how they voted on the legislation asked for by the President, and New York banks were denied funds because Pennsylvania had endorsed the President's policies. That is only one of the examples of the interference of government with business in which the ingenious money powers of a century ago saw the on-march of anarchy and the destruction of American institutions.

Same Objectives By Modern Methods

They send bankers to Leavenworth and Atlanta nowadays for doing the things that Nicholas Biddle did right along, which has compelled a change in methods, but the essential objective—the restraint of government interference with subversive practices for the increase of profits—remains unchanged.

In the old days, the czar of American finance pulled loans back from local banks in order that industries and agriculture all over the United States should be crippled, and thereby an economic depression should be produced; the theory being that the Jackson administration should be frightened into letting up on the Biddle institution. Today the process is for the ganged super capitalists to withhold investment from the economic stream and so make business languish, with the same idea of forcing the government at Washington into subservience to the big interests.

The Gannetts and minor tom-tom beaters of the reactionary press of today had their parallel a century ago, though the subsidies that spurred on the Jackson baiters were more direct than they are now. No big newspapers were themselves members of the element then represented by "The Bank," whose contemporary modern equivalent is the Liberty League, and its aliases. However, there are some compensations for the more tortuous processes which time has brought. Jackson's foes did not have the convenience of radio announcers plugging the sale of corporation products, and incidentally slipping into their sales talk their own views, or views that have been handed them, on government and economics.

It is entertaining to read over the propaganda of that vivid period of American history. The President was bent on the destruction of business and the gathering of all power to himself. They pictured him with a crown and sceptre, with his feet trampling the Constitution. Gravely, and over and over, they pointed out that the Jackson policies would plunge the country into chaos; that the depression that resulted from the acts of "The Bank" itself would progress until total ruin confronted the country. All President Jackson was doing was rescuing the nation from a tyranny that not only insisted on dominating the fiscal affairs of the Government but on taking over the whole business, including elections.

It developed, when the Government deposits were withdrawn and Congress refused to recharter Mr. Biddle's monopoly, that the state depositories made an excellent substitute; the commercial world jumped into its stride and the treasury became so plenary that a lot of the tax revenues were redistributed to the states—not, of course, without the cry being raised that no power was vested in the federal government to make such a distribution.

Nobody went broke except Nicholas Biddle, and he would have possibly survived if the "loans and accommodations" had been taken seriously as obligations to be repaid. Nobody has even thought since of the governmental financing being left in private hands. The chapters of history that deal with "The Bank" are simply narratives of a curious phenomenon appertaining to a nation in its infancy, both as to the old system and to the denunciation that accompanied the struggle to be rid of it. Progressive Measures Always Bitterly Fought

It has happened rather frequently in the intervening years that people and institutions with a bad cause have attempted to make that cause the distress of the whole industrial and commercial circle. When the first anti-trust laws were put on the statute books, they were pointed to as measures intended to destroy American initiative and eliminate corporate efficiency in promoting large enterprises. When an income tax, graduated according to the size of the incomes, became our basic revenue source, those who fought it tried to make the country believe it was class legislation aimed to penalize success, and thereby to break down everything that had made the United States great and prosperous.

It has happened before; it is happening now, and doubtless will happen in the future.

To read back the story of these progressive advances, every one of which has been demonstrated by time to have added to the prosperity and happiness of the American Republic, it must appear that it was not for the selfish motive of greater profits and permanence of privilege that the enemies of these acts opposed them, but because of the dire threat to the country at large.

One has only to read the impassioned outbursts of the reactionary publicists to learn that it is always patriotism and not pelf that motivates their clients; altruism and not avarice that is behind the opposition to the government, and that it is social salvation and not sordid selfishness that inspires the great and unceasing effort to keep things as they are.

They have been saving this country from going to the devil so often that they now begin to believe it themselves—and the poor old country has staggered along notwithstanding, and has not ever reached or even approached the limbo to which it was doomed whenever anybody sought to touch their gorgeous privileges.

Small Adjustment

The wireless dealer had just succeeded in selling the most expensive all wave radio gramophone on the stand, and was mentally spending the commission on the deal when his customer's voice brought him back to earth.

"There's just one little adjustment I'd like you to make," she said.

"Yes, madam?"

"We're not fitted with electricity," she told him, "so will you have it converted, please, for gas?"—New Outlook.

Alcazar Stage Wife Says Husband Nutty

RUTH ANDERSEN

It was Ruth Andersen's stage husband, Phil Stearns, who painted the now famous surrealist picture, "Nude With Pineapple." The masterpiece was done while the husband was in a sanitarium where he had been committed at the behest of his wife and father in law. All of this takes place in the laugh riot "Nude With Pineapple," which is now playing a short run at the Alcazar Theater in San Francisco. It was Miss Andersen's fine conception of comedy as well as Mr. Stearns' that makes "Nude With Pineapple" the funniest show of the year. Following this play a mammoth production of Leona and Barrie Stavis book "The Sun And I" will be staged at the Alcazar.

New Weapons Used By Physicians Of Country In Rout- ing Infantile Paralysis

(By Hart Goodrich)

Picric acid—a deadly weapon when mixed with other ingredients and placed in shells destined for China or Spain. Picric acid—a deadly weapon used by doctors in their war on that dread disease, infantile paralysis. Not only picric acid, but zinc sulphate—used in eyewashes for years—enters the picture along with the "iron lung," or respirator, invented ten years ago by Professor Phillip Drinker of Harvard.

New methods to prevent infantile paralysis are highly ingenious by reason of their sheer simplicity. They are based on the discovery that infantile paralysis attacks the nerves, that the germs enter the system by way of the nose, only place in the human body where nerves are exposed.

That is why picric acid, or sulphate of zinc, is made into an atomizer and set up as a chemical blockade. Simple remedy, and yet it took more than 100 years of actual research to get around to it.

With these simple remedies at hand, scientists of America now have great hope of success in their far-flung drive to wipe out the scourge of infantile paralysis from the face of the earth. If the fight is successful, it will mean that American medical men have won over a force prevalent in human society since the race began. This disease ravaged the people who flourished back in the time of the eighteenth Egyptian dynasty—more than 3000 years ago.

Though the newspapers carry pictures of the "iron lung" almost daily, we know little of its functions. As described by an expert, the Drinker machine consists of a large, airtight cylinder that resembles a horizontal boiler on a wheeled frame. The body of an infantile paralysis victim is placed inside the cylinder, the head outside. Rhythmic, gentle changes in air pressure within the cylinder cause the lungs to inhale and exhale, though the chest muscles can not move voluntarily.

At present there are some 200 "iron lungs" in the United States and Canada. More are needed, though the reason for the scarcity of machines is that the disease does not necessarily affect the lungs. Hence the main fight against infantile paralysis is waged by the acids—picric and sulphate.

At present there are some 300,000 victims of the disease in this country, of which 95 per cent are small children.

In a week or so, if you are undecided whether or not to attend the President's Birthday Ball in your vicinity, remember those 285,000 little victims, and put on your party togs and a happy smile and prepare for a good time while sharing a mighty good deed with the rest of us.

Lesson Sermon Of Christian Science

These words from Psalms comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, January 23, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Truth." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "Because I will publish the name of the Lord: ascribe ye greatness unto our God. Peanuts Abundant As Sugar Plums

Nut crops have become the solution for part of the agricultural problem in New Mexico.

The soil in the Portales Valley, on the eastern side of the state, has been found well suited for raising peanuts. A mammoth roaster is now in operation in the town of Portales, roasting 1000 pounds—or an acre—of peanuts an hour. The peanut crop this year is estimated at 720,000 pounds, worth $36,000 to Portales Valley farmers. Factories are using part of this crop to make peanut butter and oil.

Pertinent Thoughts Anent Drink Habit

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers has this to say in regard to drinking and dope:

"Liquor and marijuana offer a far greater menace to youth than at any time in history, social and educational leaders contend."

It is asserted that the greatest inducement for youth to use alcohol and narcotics is offered in the following list:

The widespread legalized use of liquor in restaurants, drug stores and other establishments.

The social pressure and smartness of drinking.

Lack of scientific education on the effects of alcohol and narcotics.

Woodrow Wilson Graduating Party

The Woodrow Wilson Parent Teacher Association held its regular meeting, Tuesday afternoon of this week, in the Woodrow Wilson School. Mrs. C. A. Andrews, district health chairman, was an interesting speaker. A program on the life of Abraham Lincoln was put on by students under the direction of Miss Vireno.

A Life Membership Desert and card party will be held on Thursday, February 10, at American Legion Hall. Desert will be served at 1 p.m. and cards will follow immediately. The proceeds will go to the State Student Loan Fund. This enables many students to continue their education. Be sure to reserve that date. Tickets may be purchased in a few days from the members. We assure you of a pleasant afternoon.

At the graduation exercises, held last evening, the president, Mrs. Grace Hill, presented the scholarship ring.

The Graduates Party is being held this afternoon at the Woodrow Wilson School, with Mrs. Julia Petersen as chairman.

Legion Auxiliary Regular Meeting

The funds will be used for convention participation in Los Angeles at the National Convention in September.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NEWS OF INTEREST

Awards Given To Elementary Grads

Sixty-eight well dressed boys and girls were graduated from the Jefferson School District, Thursday evening of this week. Representing the colors of their respective schools, the girls made a chic picture in their well cut tailored skirts, crisp white blouses and colorful sleeveless sweaters.

Woodrow Wilson, whose school colors are blue and white, carried the theme out with the girls clad in navy skirts, white blouses, navy sweaters and a navy kerchief with a white "W." The boys wore oxford slacks, white shirts, blue sweaters and tie and a white "W."

Jefferson girls wore navy skirts, white blouses, bright red sweaters and a red "J" on the blouses, while the boys wore grey slacks and sweaters, white shirts, red tie and a red "J."

Crocker girls marched in gray skirts, white blouses and green sweaters with a green "C," while the boys accompanied them in gray slacks and sweaters, white shirts and a green "C."

The singing, led by the music supervisor, Miss Mosconi, indicated a great deal of practice and understanding on the part of the students as the graduates and glee clubs sang the several selections.

A very tense moment in the program was the awarding of the American Legion Auxiliary Scholarship Award. Kathleen Day, Woodrow Wilson Elementary student, was the astounded young lady who received the $5 when Superintendent Crane announced her superior scholastic achievement in the district.

The P. T. A. scholarships given to the students in their respective schools for highest scholastic attainment were: Crocker School, Enes Sambucetti; Jefferson School, Claudia Bertini; and Woodrow Wilson, Annalaise Trautmann, who was second highest in her school, Kathleen Day having been first.

American Legion medals, certificates and pins were presented to the following boy and girl in each school for outstanding character traits. The six young citizens who were presented this award were: Jefferson School, Louise Parodi and Lawrence Caserza; Crocker School, Dorothy Byrne and Robert Crocker; Woodrow Wilson, Jean Hanselman and Arthur McCrystle.

The outstanding event of the evening was the presentation of diplomas by District Superintendent R. L. Crane. The sixty-eight boys and girls were very proud to be able to receive their diplomas from their own superintendent, who, with the co-operation of the Board of Trustees, has done so much to advance educational standards in the schools of this district.

Miniature Post Office Established

A unique real life situation which follows in line with modern educational methods as suggested in the new "Experience Curriculum in English" was developed by Mrs. Lewis, language teacher in the Woodrow Wilson Elementary School.

As an outgrowth from the teaching of letter writing and as a correlation with social studies, a postoffice activity resulted. The students have constructed a complete postal system and have written letters in proper form to one another. They have learned the various steps taken in writing, mailing and delivering mail.

Present Play For Parent Teachers

A "Little Life of Lincoln" was presented in the form of a play in two acts before the Parent-Teachers of the Woodrow Wilson Elementary School. The first act was a sketch of Lincoln's life as a boy. The other act told how Lincoln came to be called "Honest Abe."

The following children participated in the play, under the direction of their teacher, Miss Mabel Vireno: The Cast—Abraham Lincoln, Frank Pate; His Stepmother, Eugenia Rich; His Father, Samuel Van Lieu; His Stepbrother, Joe Battaglieri; His Two Stepsisters, Mary Hill and Earlyn Barker; The "Boys," Allen Rigler and Harvey Melicker; Town-folk, Albert McIntire and Edward Bittancourt; Old Mrs. Lowdy, Mary Picchi; Property Manager and Stage-hand, Roy De Vincenzi and Earlyn Barker.

When white men came to the coast, there were about 200,000 Indians in California; today "more than half the original California groups have not a single living representative," says Edwin F. Walker of the Southwest Museum.

"Wives Invited Free" To Acquaint Them With Air Travel

"Bring the wife along" encouraged the United Air Lines as it issued a plan to "get women into the air." Wives, they say, are frequently opposed to their husbands traveling by air, but once they have tried it themselves they usually become avid air fans, line officials contend. Therefore, every husband who purchases a ticket San Francisco to Los Angeles can take his wife along free of charge. Photo shows Gerald Van Bergen coaxing his wife into the huge airliner at the San Francisco Airport. Van Bergen has 30,000 miles of air travel to his credit.

News Of Boy Scout Troop Number 141

Our troop is busy planning and getting ready for the Boy Scout Week, February 6-12 inclusive. Both patrols are working on stunts for exhibition and demonstration of Scouting to the public. Among the things planned is a display window with a live exhibit in it. Most of the plans are shrouded in mystery as they are to be surprises. We hope they go over with a bang!

A Father and Son banquet is to be a highlight of the observance week. It will take place on Thursday evening, February 10. In conjunction with it will be a Merit Badge Court of Honor and a troop advancement court.

FESTIVAL OF YOUTH

Joining forces with the girl scouts and cubs, we hope to make this coming event one to be long remembered in Daly City. It is scheduled to take place on April 23 at a location yet to be announced. The festival will assume the proportions of a local fair, with the election and crowning of a queen and everything! Be sure to keep the date in mind and plan to attend. Mothers of the boys and girls will be in charge of concessions such as refreshments, lunches, foods, etc. The principal job of the boys and girls will be to advertise the event and to provide entertainment in the form of songs, music, stunts, demonstrations and the like.

A number of outside entertainers are also being engaged.

The Festival of Youth will afford an opportunity for our units to demonstrate many phases of their activities to the public and a most enjoyable time is assured all who attend. Many novel ideas are being worked out in connection with the festival, among which is an advance sale of credit tokens. Those will sell at 10 cents and each will carry a stub of 10 votes for the festival queen. The tokens are being sold as a sort of attendance insurance plan and may be used as cash at full value at the festival concessions. The general admission will be free and so will the afternoon matinee and evening stage performances. We want everybody to boost for the Festival of Youth. Our slogan will be "A good time for everybody!"

ASK PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT FOR CHILDREN

Since one of the most important characteristics of childhood during the period of elementary education is physical growth, it is of particular importance that all aspects of the educational program which contribute to wholesome physical development receive the serious and continual consideration of parents and teachers.

The California Congress of Parents and Teachers has noted with great satisfaction the progress which has been made in the advancement of the program of physical education and recreation in the schools, as well as the extension of health service to the children of the state. The Congress has co-operated actively in these important educational movements and is committed to a continuance of policies designed to improve these services.

The Department of Health of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, in studying ways and means by which the Congress may be of further service, finds that an adequate program of health education is not provided in many school systems of the state. The Board of Managers of the Congress, therefore, urge that the State Board of Education empower the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and the State Department of Education to take immediate steps necessary to provide the teachers of the state with proper guidance in a functional program of health education.

Iron Lung Aids In Saving A Life

George Hamilton, window washer, and well known to many Daly City residents, is reported in a fair condition at the Villa Hospital, where he was taken by ambulance following an attempted suicide at his home on Mission street, Wednesday morning of this week.

Jack Kelly, who called to take Mr. Hamilton to see his wife, who is in a peninsula hospital, found no answer to his knock and detected a faint odor of gas. Officer Ed Heim came along and the two summoned aid. Gaining entrance by forcing the door, they found Hamilton in bed with a garden hose attached to the stove at one end, the other near his mouth.

On arrival at the hospital, the unconscious man was placed in the iron lung and soon regained consciousness. After a number of hours, he was removed from the respirator in a greatly improved condition.

EXCESSIVE BRAKING

Excessive use of the brakes is one of the common causes of rapid tire wear.

Other causes of such wear are rapid acceleration, causing rear wheels to spin and grind tires against the pavement; a bent axle, or bent steering parts.

Arrested for driving while intoxicated, Miss Betty Kachmeyer of Milwaukee told the judge: "I had only 25 bottles of beer, judge. I wasn't drunk at all." She was fined $100 or 30 days in jail.

PER REQUEST

A foreman in a certain factory is in the habit of getting an apprentice to heat his lunch for him. The other day he called a new apprentice.

"Go down stairs and 'eat up' my lunch for me, he ordered. The boy obeyed with alacrity. Ten minutes later the foreman came down. He was hungry.

"Where's my lunch?" he demanded. The boy gazed at him in amazement.

"You told me to eat it up, and I ate it."

"I didn't tell you to heat it up," roared the irate foreman. "I told you to 'eat it up.'"

"Well, I didn't heat it up," maintained the youngster, stoutly; "I ate it cold."—Pathfinder.

COOLING SYSTEM

In sections where winter temperatures require an anti-freeze solution in the radiator, the entire cooling system should be cleaned and flushed before adding the solution.

The cylinder head gasket, hose connections and other points should be tightened to avoid leaks. The water pump packing should be replaced if necessary.

A young matron drove through downtown Indianapolis with two women friends. Trailing from her motor car were tin cans, old shoes and streamers. A sign said: "Just Divorced."

Chinese Patriot's Grandson To Wed

Pictured with his fiancée, Mildred Jay of Honolulu, T. H., is Tse Ping Sun, grandson of Sun Yat Sen, who was known as "Father of the Chinese Republic," as the young couple recently registered as students at the University of California. The Chinese boy was born in Berkeley, Cal., 25 years ago, while his father was a student at U. C. Following his father's graduation, in 1916, the little family went back to China. The couple have not decided on the date for the wedding.

JEFFERSON HIGH HAS CORPS OF NEW OFFICERS

The semi-annual election of Student Body officers of Jefferson Union High School was held last week.

The new officers for the spring semester are as follows: Arthur Wright, president; Melba Nelson, vice president; Lillian Cavagnaro, treasurer; Arnold Panella, Judge; Kevin Epidendio, Sergeant at arms. Wright, who is an all around athlete, has won his block "J" in football and track. During the past semester he served as sergeant at arms for the student body, and on various committees. The other newly elected officers are popular students and greatly interested in the affairs of the school. Because of this fact, a very successful semester is expected.

The election was supervised by President Elio Fontana with the aid of a committee which consisted of Jean Terry, Russell Antrocoli, Dick Millet, Grant Smith and Ralph Matteucci.

The new administration had their first introduction to the work they are expected to do next semester at a joint meeting with the retiring officers on Tuesday of this week.

Later in the day the formal installation of these officers was held, the old officers handing over something symbolic of their individual office to the successor.

Young Woman Apprehended And Charged With Purloining Jewels From Bedrooms — Is Held To Answer bureau drawers were ransacked and a man's ring valued at $25 and a woman's $125 ring taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Batmale stopped her as she came out of the bedroom and summoned police.

According to Police Chief Maher a search by Officers Louis Traeger and Arthur Brittain revealed the two rings in Mrs. Crawford's handbag.

Pleading that she was intoxicated, Mrs. Crawford admitted taking the rings and also a $190 wrist watch and a $25 stickpin from Mr. and Mrs. Batmale's bedroom under similar circumstances last December, the San Bruno chief asserted.

He said she was examined by a physician and pronounced sober. Her companion was absolved of any connection with the thefts.

It is alleged that the girl was arrested in San Francisco, June 17, 1937, for forgery and petty theft. She won six months' probation.

At the county jail she said she lived alone at 2232 Pacific street, and that she worked part-time on the switchboard at Heald's Business College. She said she was married, but separated from her husband.

Informed of her arrest, San Francisco police said they would question her in connection with jewelry thefts there.

BEARDED ACTOR

Paul Muni In "Life Of Emile Zola"

PAUL MUNI GROWS BEARD FOR FILM

On account of Paul Muni's whiskers "The Life of Emile Zola," his newest Warner Bros. starring picture, which comes to the Daly City Theater next Sunday, was made backwards.

As the story naturally starts with Zola as a young man, with not a trace of a beard, and it would have been impossible for Muni to grow a luxuriant crop during the progress of the picture, Director William Dieterle filmed the later days of the famous French writer first and the star's whiskers—a naturally heavy growth—gradually faded away by trimming, to a mere whisker as the picture progressed in reverse order.

Also on same program you will see Warner Oland in "Charlie Chan on Broadway."

SAYS ALASKA TO MAKE BID FOR TOURIST TRADE

Railroad And Steamship Company Expected To Put New Schedules In Effect

It is believed in official circles that the government's Alaska Railroad and the Alaska Steamship Company will rearrange schedules next summer in such a way as to lop off four days traveling time between Seattle and Mount McKinley National Park. This was the statement made by Col. O. F. Ohlson, general manager of the government line, who stopped recently in Seattle en route to Washington, D. C. The Alaska Railroad, said the colonel, would run a special express train from Anchorage, the rail head, to Mount McKinley Park entrance in 12 hours—a distance of 380 miles. Heretofore the trip has taken a day and a half, with an overnight stop at Curry.

Ohlson said that while he could not speak for the steamship company he believed summer passenger boats would maintain considerably faster schedules by omitting numerous "cannery stops" to load fish.

He declared that the steamship and railway companies feel more keenly than ever before that they are in competition with other localities for the tourist's dollar.

The Mount McKinley National Park Hotel, built by the government at a cost of $350,000 and capable of accommodating 140 persons, will open June 15. Erection of another hotel at the end of the 88 mile highway into the park from the entrance is under consideration. This hotel would provide tourists with an opportunity to view Mount McKinley from the west side.

Twenty-five per cent of the settlers now in the government's Matanuska colony, Colonel Ohlson said, are self supporting. The others should be in a few more years. Matanuska produce—potatoes, vegetables and poultry—is already moving over the railroad from the colony into Fairbanks.

"But it will be from five to ten years before the Matanuska colony will be able to supply the entire rail belt, from Anchorage to Fairbanks," Colonel Ohlson continued.
